Orientation'21 was indeed an exquisite and wonderful event for Yavanika. The process was a bit challenging for because of the unprecedented times due to which the working of society was going on in hybrid mode, both offline and online, nevertheless, Yavanika continued to grow and shape students by providing them an environment where they can flourish, learn and improve their skills.

The orientation'21 started with a brief introduction by Dr. Shailly Anand, the convenor of the society followed by Dr. Monika Bansal, member of the society. Thereafter, Nikita (President – Yavanika) and Sakshi (Member – Yavanika) showcased the core beliefs and ideals of the society along with the solemn motto of Yavanika, "lifting off the veil of ignorance". Further the presentation went down the memory lane reminiscing about all the past achievements and performances of previous years, such as Maharathi, Baaki Itihaas, Sikander ki Jeet and many more. After this, the audience members were introduced with the Core team members at Yavanika, which was followed by a short video that aimed at familiarising new students about the working of the society. A recent Short Film/ Documentary titled "RE-NEW" created by Yavanika and screened during an International Conference on "Microbes in Sustainable Development" organized by Indian Network for Soil Contamination Research was also screened to let the first years understand the diverse areas where Yavanika tries reach out – from science to art but with always with a cause. The office bearers took time to patiently answer all the queries raised by the students. The deep interest of joining the society could very well be understood from the continuous queries being raised by students regarding the procedure to join the society. After an intense and elaborate discussion about the society and its working etc, the session finally came to an end with lots of praise and cheers.

Orientation'21 was a wonderfully organized event. The process was a bit challenging for because of the unprecedented times due to which the working of society was going on in hybrid mode, both offline and online, nevertheless, Yavanika continued to grow and shape students by providing them an environment where they can flourish, learn and improve their skills.

The orientation program was conducted on 28th November, 2021. It started with the presentation and a short video that aimed at familiarising new students about the working of the society, it was followed by the screening of a self-directed play, 'Barff', a beautiful play written by Saurabh Shukla. The team took its time finding and finalising a script that everyone could relate to and connect with. The team then worked on directing scenes, creating designs and visuals, building up characters and arranging costumes. The process also included designing lights and sounds which was an equally challenging yet exhilarating task for the team. The entire process was very fulfilling for the team and since it was first major event for the current team, it also acted as a great team building process. Below are a couple of glimpses of the Orientation Program:

“We don’t have a Plan B for there is no Planet B”

said Mr. Ban Ki-moon – the United Nations Secretary General while addressing a global conference on Climate Change in 2016. This short statement beholds a deeper meaning on which lies our future.

Our earth was once a beautiful place with diverse life forms inhabiting its surface and enough resources for coexistence. But then we humans prospered, dominated and exploited nature and its resources. This included the indiscriminate use of chemicals, exhausting non-renewable sources of energy and an uncontrolled generation of waste. Hand-in-hand with population explosion, this has posed a large threat to the sustainability of the environment. If these practices are not renewed and shifted to greener ways, the world might soon deplete its natural resources and the pollution levels might bring a doom for earth, making it an inhabitable place with completely destroyed ecology.

Do you know?

- More than 700 million people, or 10 per cent of the world population, still live in extreme poverty today, struggling to fulfil the most basic needs like health, education, and access to water and sanitation, to name a few.
- Nearly 690 million people are hungry, or 8.9 percent of the world population. If recent trends continue, the number of people affected by hunger would surpass 840 million by 2030.
- One in three people do not have access to safe drinking water, two out of five people do not have a basic hand-washing facility with soap and water, and more than 673 million people still practice open defecation.
- Around 1 million animal and plant species are threatened with extinction.

These are just a few numbers which has raised a concern. Should the global population reach 9.6 billion by 2050, the equivalent of almost three planets would be required to provide the natural resources needed to sustain current lifestyles. Foreseeing this United Nations expressed its intervention with a hope of creating a sustainable tomorrow. In Jan 2016, 193 countries worldwide agreed to 17 Global Goals with 169 targets for a sustainable development of the world by 2030. These targets with interconnected synergies aim to meet basic human needs i.e. food, cloth, shelter and healthcare but not at the expense of environmental damage.

As said, big changes start small. Microbes behold the route to sustainability which in simpler words means the “capacity to continue into distant future”. Since ages, these tiny beings have influenced our day-to-day life from health to food, climate change to bioremediation, bio-fuels to improvement of water quality and even discovery of new drugs and sustainable food production.

Based on this theme, the students of Yavanika presented a Short Documentary during the International Conference which was appreciated by scientists all across the world. This was a heart warming moment for the society.

SESSION 1

(Sandeep)

The workshop started with team introduction. They discussed about the basics of theatre and why we do it. Afterwards, they moved to four basic theatre activities, focussing on making the students move and involve an essence of offline workshops in the online medium.

1. Concentration drill

The motive of this activity was to understand the body and mind function on coordination and how to stay focused and concentrated during chaotic situations. The instructions were given special attention.

2. Random walk

Motive of this activity is to cover all the void areas while walking randomly. Certain instructions were provided that the students had to follow during the activity, which helped them develop a coordination between their mind and body.

3. Find Me

Motive of this activity was to check attentiveness. In theatre, specifically this activity is very useful. It's aim was to provide a basic awareness of the surrounding. This helped the students to understand the importance of an organized backstage so that everything behind the stage functions smoothly.

4. 6 liner story while using three words

Motive of this activity is to check creativity, spontaneity and observation. Keen observations give stories and characters which inspires the students and helps them transform them into meaningful acts for stage presentation.

The workshop was concluded with a quick yet fun feedback session using one adjective only. It was an extremely fun and engaging workshop.

SESSION 2

(Aditya)

1. Workshop began with Mr. Gaurav Grover taking notes from 1st year students about activities conducted in previous workshop
2. Random walk exercise adding speed variations from degree 1-7, freezing in a dramatic pose
3. Walk-Stop-Jog at count of 1, 2 and 3 and cry and laugh out loud at 4 and 5 respectively
4. Tongue rotation and Breathing exercise by Mr. Jatin Sharma, voice projection exercise through arming-bow-n-arrow action, chanting Om 5 times, breathing on count of 5
5. Understanding difference in speech and voice, practicing degrees of volume and voice elevation at different distances
6. Word connect activity between pair of two students, with the motive of improving timing
7. Students form a linear story by adding one-liner events consecutively, and one student narrates story told throughout.

SESSION 3

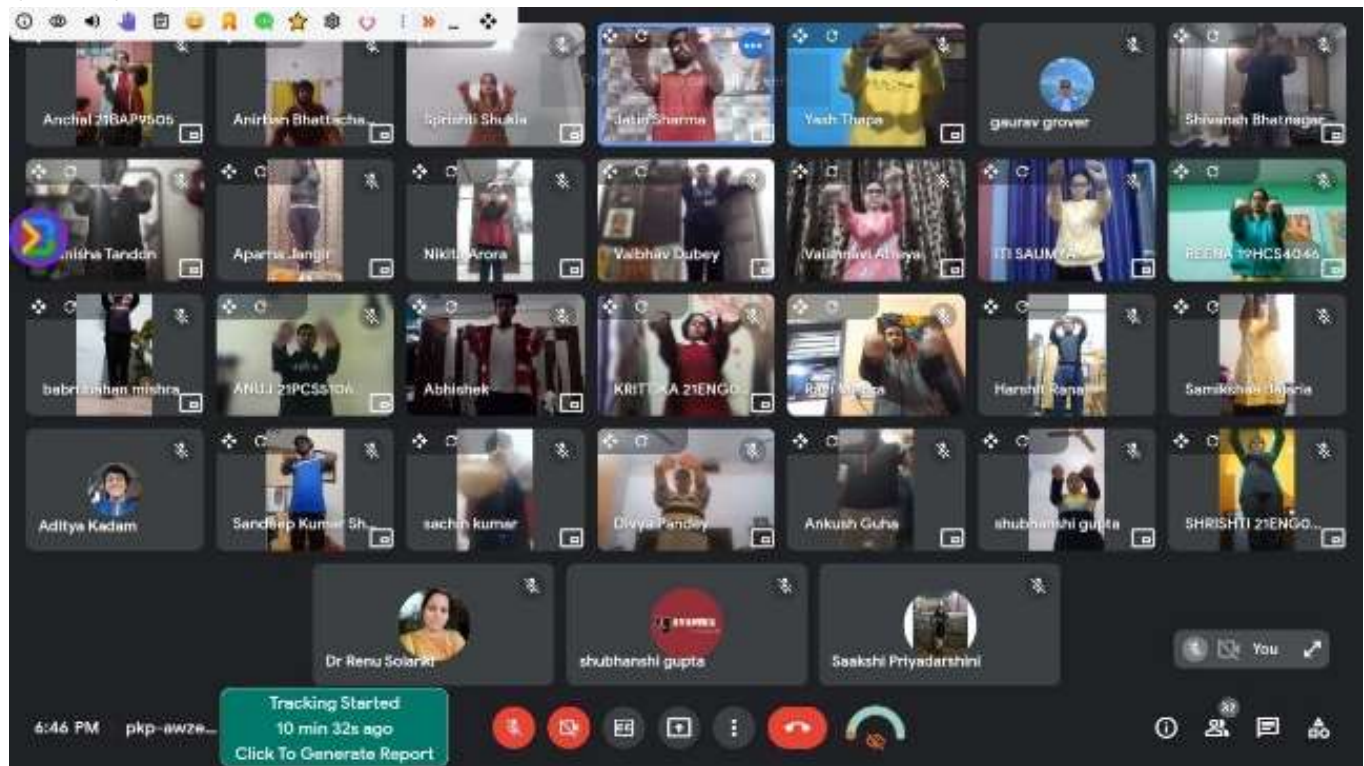

(Abhishek)

1. The workshop started with a Warm up conducted by Mr. Jatin Sharma which included various facial exercises
2. Next activity was Thread Walk in which the students had to pretend that someone was pulling them by their various body parts
3. It was followed by Random Walk with 5 instructions which were Walk, Stop, Sit, Jump, Brisk Walk.
4. And then the workshop was continued by Mr. Gaurav Grover with Find me activity in which students had to find the desired object of the desired colour in 10 second then give 5 other uses of that object.
5. And then a activity named Freezing into a object or a character in which students had to start with a random Walk and then freeze into a object or a character
6. After that the same activity was done but with a twist in which Mr. Gaurav gave a Specific zone to the students which was Mahabharata so now students had to freeze into a character which had to be related with Mahabharata
7. The workshop was concluded with a Q&A session by Mr. Jatin.

SESSION 4

(Reena)

The workshop was divided into three parts. The students got trained in the three basics tools of a performer which are body, voice and mind.

For body, they started with warmup where we had to walk randomly at our places and then do whatever instructions were given e.g say dialogues imaging ourselves playing a game of tug of war and many more. Then they moved on to tip- to- toe warmup starting from the eyebrows to their feet moving every part of the body to and fro and back and forth.

For voice first of all they worked on their breathing patterns, e.g controlled breathing, where they had to inhale and hold the breath for 5 seconds and exhale till any instance of air is left. Another exercise for breathing was to take a light piece of cotton and blow it in the air and not let it drop by blowing air. Another was to blow air so that they could make a water bottle or a heavy object move. These exercises particularly was done to get a projection in the voice which is very important for a performer. Then, while walking randomly they had to make different noises like vowel sounds, sing some alphabets or talk loud.

Then the students moved on to train the third tool mind. There are three components associated to it which are memory, observation and implementation. They had to remember a character from their daily life, where the memory was used. Then they had to remember the attire, nuances and habits the character carry where their observation was used and then they had to play or implement the observations in the character. Mr. Jatin

Sharma asked questions about the character each student played which helped them think about the character and know the character well.

With a feedback, the session came to an end and were more aware and trained about the tools of a performer.

SESSION 5

(Nikita)

The workshop started with a Warm up conducted by Mr. Jatin Sharma which included various facial exercises. Then they moved on to tip- to- toe warmup starting from the eyebrows to the feet moving every part of the body to and fro and back and forth.

The motive of this workshop was to enhance the creativity skills and help the students in thinking big. Every student had to speak out there which according to them were very big statements. This also helped the members in getting more open around each other and also helped them in gaining confidence with public speaking skills.

With a feedback, the session ended providing a deeper knowledge about the toolset of a performer.

SESSION 6

(Aparna)

The Workshop session started with head-shoulder-knee-foot touch exercise, along with hearing random instructions carefully and performing. Random walk exercise mixed with hyper-slow speed walk, and increasing speed gradually. Members were to choose an animal and physically imitate it, and they were asked to identify which person was performing which animal, focusing on intricacies of an animal's nature. Impromptu activity in pair of twos was conducted wherein one partner were to lead with the story and latter had to assert and act, random members then entered the act on sir's instruction.

SESSION 7

(Shubhanshi)

This session of the Workshop started with imagining as if they were walking in a park. As done in the previous session wherein they performed the activity of choosing any animal and imitating it so they had to now walk like the animal they had chosen and imitated the other day. Random walk with head, shoulder, feet, knee touch exercise were done. Students had to think about how they can execute the happy moment of their life while doing mime. They had to act like a short film without saying and without using any object which had a start-middle-end while the other members had to identify what he/she had enacted on.

SESSION 8

(Yash)

The workshop started with a warm up conducted by Mr. Jatin Sharma which was head to toe basic exercises. After the workout he asked about the freedom fighters we researched about. Then there was an activity conducted by him in which they had to change the character's on the instructions of our fellow mates as like changing the channels in television. The workshop session concluded with some suggestions to improve performance and enhance the creativity, breathing, dialogue delivery and expressions.

SESSION 9

(Manisha)

Workshop started with head-shoulder-knee-foot touch exercise, along with hearing random instructions carefully and performing THEM. Random walk exercise mixed with hyper-slow speed walk, and increasing speed gradually. Mr. Gaurav and Mr. Jatin discussed about freedom fighters who remained unsung since their time. Mr. Gaurav made students perform and guess various Ras forms and explained the intricacies of each Ras. The workshop concluded with a feedback session.

He is also a renowned personality for many judgement panels in many colleges, technical universities, schools and institutions. He has been a jury member of Mahavidyalaya Natya Samaroh organized by SKP.

ABOUT THE PLAY

What is the true meaning of freedom? Are we actually free today? Was the fight for freedom that we have today as easy as we think it was? On the occasion of completing 75 years of independence we are celebrating 'Azaadi ka Amrit Mahotsav' but do we actually value the cost we had to pay for this independence? Bringing in all these questions we hereby present you - "अनकही (UNTOLD): The story of Courage and Valour" - describing how difficult it was to get independent under a vast sky. A play that will show you the unknown sides of Indian independence and will introduce you to those who remained unknown and unheard during the fight for independence.

ABOUT THE PROCESS

With some excitement, some nervousness and with an unclear vision the journey begins. It took hours of discussion, hundreds of agreements and disagreements and some moments of confusion to reach a much deserving breath, a unclear picture of what we are going to make. After the weeks of back and forth we set to the journey of "अनकही", the musical story of Courage and Valour. We have our share of ups and downs, being an individual and as a team, which is the only thing that matters at the end.

Yavanika, the theatre society of Deen Dayal Upadhyaya College organized its annual theatre festival Mirage. It experienced participation from the vibrant theatre societies of colleges from Delhi theatre circuit in stageplay competition 'Prastuti' as well as street play competition 'Street Sangram'.

Mirage was organized on 27th and 28th day of the month of April. The first day was the day of Prastuti, The stageplay competition. It experienced participation of 4 teams, Aadhar (Motilal Nehru College), Natuve (Shaheed Bhagat Singh College Evening), Anubhuti (Janki Devi Memorial College), Masque (Hindu College). The atmosphere was really an exuberant one. Aadhar performed their production 'Jaal', Natuve performed 'Manotal', Anubhuti performed 'That Fourth Wall', Masque performed 'Barzakh-e-dastaan'. Everyone sensed the energy of the characters and the teams as well. They performed with sincerity and dedication. The judges for the day were Mr. Raghvendra Tiwari, a renowned artist and Mr. Garvit Ahuja, a great theatre enthusiast.

The second day was the day of Street play competition, Street Sangram. 5 teams participated in the competition namely Abhinay (Maharajap Agrasen College), Vayam (Shivaji College), Et-cetra (GTBIT), Rangayan (ARSD), Leher (DCAC). All the teams performed brilliantly. The energy of the teams was admirable, the way they performed in the scorching heat was really commendable. The judge for the day was Mr. Raghvendra Tiwari. It was really a great day to cherish our time with the team, what can be more better than ending the day with jamming on songs with some superb peoples.

Whole of the journey of the Mirage was enthusiastic, inspiring, fun at the same time. Starting from working on the theme to transiting into decoration to managing the event. At the end, the result of all the hard work was quite visible on the faces of the participants. They appreciated both the hospitality and the event in general. The student volunteers escorted them, provided medical aids and assisted them to the highest possible extent. It was altogether a great humanly as well as professional experience for everyone.
